MTB Short circuit, ideal for test trail riding

There are various mountain biking tours you can tackle in Tiarno di Sotto. This particular one is the ideal choice if you have limited time or wish to test your bike before doing a longer circuit. You start on minor roads but soon wind your way up the slopes of Monte dei Pini, following a track through dense forest. There's 500 metres of altitude to climb before you can enjoy the descent back down into the village. Most of this trail is on woodland floor, it never gets really steep and the numerous switchbacks are designed to be easy to negotiate. This means you'll enjoy the descent a lot, even if you aren't a downhill expert. The last section in the village is back on concrete and tarmac.
